FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Terry Hanson Earns Fellowship Designation

February 1, 2010 Akron, OH Terry Hanson, president and CEO of Zumparno + Hanson, recently became a Fellow of the American College of Healthcare Executives (ACHE), the nation's leading professional society for healthcare leaders.

The American College of Healthcare Executives (ACHE) is an international professional society of more than 30,000 health care executives who lead our nations' hospitals, health care systems and other health related organizations. ACHE is known for its prestigious credentialing and educational programs, including its annual Congress on Healthcare Leadership, which draws more than 4,500 participants each year.

Fellowship status in ACHE represents achievement of the highest standard of professional development. In fact, only 8,500 healthcare executives nationwide hold this distinction. To obtain Fellow status, candidates must fulfill multiple requirements, including passing a comprehensive examination, meeting academic and experiential criteria, earning continuing education credits and demonstrating professional/community involvement. Fellows are also committed to ongoing professional development and undergo re-certification every three years.

"Fellowship designation reflects my professional and personal commitment to the advancement of access to quality healthcare in our Northeast Ohio community. I feel honored to join those select healthcare leaders designated as Fellows in this mission," said Hanson, who resides in Bath Township. "I look forward to leveraging the competencies I've acquired through this prestigious program for the benefit of our healthcare community."
